Dear Mr. Fairbanks:

I am sorry you interpreted my firmness that this property be reclaimed as hostility. Regardless of any misunderstanding on the notification and permit requirements, the fact remains that you have not yet reclaimed the State Lands which were disturbed by your mining operations. I have allowed a generous extension of time for you to perform the work.

From your letter of September 7, it appears that your actions in mining the property may have been without the knowledge or consent of the State's Lessee, Celsius Energy Company. In such case, the State may hold you personally liable for all damages. I hereby request that you immediately provide this office with any evidence that your mining operations on this property were authorized by Celsius Energy Company, who is leaseholder of the oil, gas, and hydrocarbon mineral rights.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN T. BLAKE
